My Dear Friend

I wrote to George Thompson after I heard of the death of his son, asking him to send me a few lines to say how he is in health. He has not sent me an answer. Will you kindly do so? I should like to know whether you are better since to Europe in Mar. I sailed in the Teuton on the 12th June from New York. I have had a pleasant trip through the West and have lectured with great success nearly every night since I saw you and have had to decline several invitations. I feel I shall have to come again and see our kind friends to return per next mail but I have resolved nothing as yet. I hope you are better in health and your dear wife also.

With very kind regards
Yours most sincerely

I have had six crowded lectures here in pretty little Richmond. We had when your packet was picked
